AgriBusiness

Bringing you outstanding products and services in a wide variety of agricultural markets.

▲ Our Chesapeake, Virginia deepwater port

Perdue AgriBusiness is an independent operating company of Perdue Farms Inc. Ranked among the largest grain companies in the U.S., we are a leading merchandiser, processor and exporter of agricultural products. Through our 70 elevator locations with more than 75 million bushels of storage, a deep-water port, transload facilities, oilseed crushing operations, an edible oil refinery, protein blend mills, seed treatment facility and an organic fertilizer facility, we focus on four segments of agriculture: Grain & Oilseed, Agricultural Services, Animal Nutrition and Specialty Crops. Perdue AgriBusiness serves markets across the United States and around the world.

Grain & Oilseed

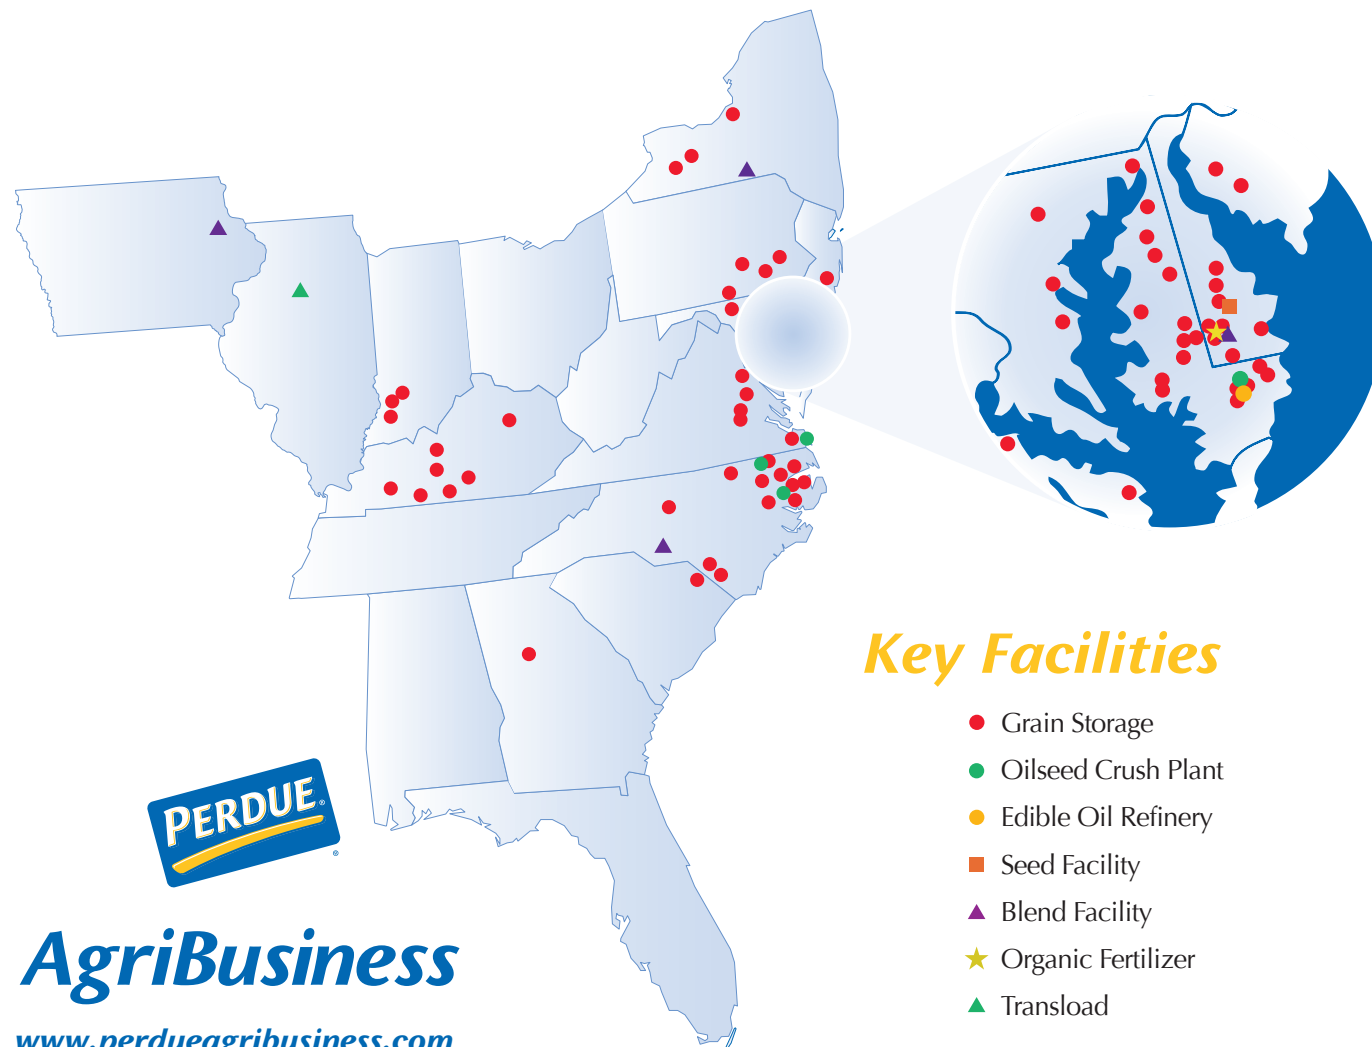

Each year, our U.S. operations handle and merchandise more than 300 million bushels of grains, soybeans and other ag commodities. We supply grains and other commodities to major ag companies in the Midwest and Eastern U.S. markets. We are experienced in truck, unit train, and single car rail movements as well as barge loading capabilities on the Great Lakes, Ohio River and Mid-Atlantic.

Our International Trading Group merchandises vessel and container quantities of grain, oilseeds, feed ingredients, and other products out of our deep water port and several transloading facilities to markets in Europe, the Mediterranean, sub-Saharan Africa, Southeast Asia, the Caribbean, and South America.

Oilseeds Processing crushes soybeans to produce meal, oil and hulls for the feed and food ingredient industries and export markets. Our Edible Oil Refinery refines and blends edible oils for major food companies. Our technical team will work with you to develop the best solution for your food processing application at a competitive cost.

Agricultural Services

Perdue AgriBusiness is your year round partner for maximizing farm profitability. We offer seed (sales, support and treatment), inputs (chemicals and fertilizer), agronomic support and risk management tools. Our Ag Services professionals can work with you on seed and input decisions along with agronomic and risk support throughout the growing cycle.

Perdue AgriRecycle provides litter cleanout/transport services from Delmarva poultry farms with valid nutrient management plans to our litter-pelletizing operation. We convert chicken litter into organic fertilizers that are listed by OMRI (Organic Materials Review Institute) and meet the requirements of the USDA/NOP (National Organic Program).

Animal Nutrition

Animal Nutrition develops and markets research-driven products and services for animal agriculture as well as merchandises feed ingredients to complete feed formulation. Dairy Nutrition produces, develops and sells high-end, science-based products for the dairy industry.

Poultry Nutrition produces and sells commercial and custom protein blends for the domestic and international animal feed industries.

Feed Ingredient Merchandising trades a wide range of alternative ingredients such as dried distillers grains with solubles (DDGS), corn gluten meal, canola meal, citrus pulp, etc. We understand the flexibility needed in feed formulation and can help you take advantage of seasonal and geographical trade opportunities.

Specialty Crops

Perdue AgriBusiness maintains relationships with leading specialty crops companies and several end user companies in the food, chemical and personal care sectors. We seek out potential value-added oilseeds with opportunity for premiums to farmers.
