Perdue Sustainability Analysis

Welcome to the Perdue Sustainability Analysis! In order to reward you for sustainability initiatives on your farm, we need to better understand your baseline. This initial Sustainability Analysis is completed through a process commonly referred to as “foot-printing.”

You will earn $1 per acre to share information about your current management practices.

HOW TO ENROLL

- 1 Log in with your Climate FieldView™ account (or create a new one).
- 2 Confirm your information and consent to the applicable terms.
- 3 Enroll your fields and answer the 6-question sustainability survey for each.
- 4 As the crop year progresses, report your management practices within FieldView™ Data Manager.
- 5 Get paid.

THE DETAILS

- Most of the data reporting is automated when you pair the FieldView™ Drive with your equipment. When you enroll, you will receive one FREE FieldView™ Drive Starter Kit when you enroll ($439 value) and a free 1-year subscription to FieldView™ PLUS.
- Manually reporting your data takes less than 10 minutes per field if you have your records available. This process is expedited if you have multiple fields under the same management practices.
- Manual reporting is also expedited when you use the “Scouting Pin” feature in the FieldView™ platform.

Sustainability Analysis Data Requirements

Enrolling in the Sustainability Analysis is the first step to getting paid for implementing regenerative practices on your farm. This analysis requires no practice changes - you will earn $1/acre simply for sharing data about your current management practices.

As the crop year progresses, you will report on the management practices below using FieldView™ Data Manager. (A note: We take data privacy very seriously. When you give your data to some digital farming platforms, THEY own the data and can do with it as they please. When you entrust your data with the FieldView™ platform, YOU are still the sole owner of your data. Your data will only be accessed and used for the purposes you permit.)
