Perdue® Sustainability Program

If you produced corn or soybeans in the 2024 crop year using no-till, strip-till and/or cover crop practices, you may be able to earn up to $20/acre¹ with the Perdue Sustainability Program.

Program Key Eligibility Requirements*

CROPS

Produced corn or soybeans in the 2024 crop year.

DELIVERY

Deliver grain to a Perdue® eligible grain processor in DE, MD, VA, PA, NJ or NC by June 30, 2025 (refer to the list below).

PRACTICES

No-till, strip-till, and/or cover crop practices were used in the 2024 crop year and will be continued for at least 10 more years.

DATA

Agree to submit agronomic data for the 2024 crop year (only one year of agronomic data is required).

*Additional eligibility requirements apply, as set forth in the current version of the Bayer Carbon-Smart Practices Master Agreement and attached program terms.

Payment Details

- Did you plant your 2024 corn or soybeans using no-till or strip-till practices?
Earn up to $10/acre¹
- Did you grow a cover crop following your 2023 harvest or before your 2024 cash crop?
Earn up to $10/acre^{1 2}
- Did you do no-till/strip-till AND cover crops?
Earn up to $20/acre¹

Payment is based on the total bushels of grain you deliver to a Perdue eligible grain processor by June 30, 2025. For each crop, the total bushels you deliver will be divided by a regionally representative per-acre yield value for that cash crop, as established by Bayer. The resulting value will be the assumed number of your acres that will be eligible to receive the per acre practice payment.

1 Payments subject to: (a) verification by Bayer that the selected practices have been performed and, for historical payments, that carbon assets have been generated; and (b) all other applicable terms of the Bayer Carbon-Smart Master Services Agreement and attached program terms.
2 Harvested winter grain and oilseed crops, typically grown as a double crop with soybeans, are considered cash crops for the purposes of the Perdue Sustainability Program, not cover crops, and therefore are not eligible for the cover crop practices payment. Please reference the Bayer Carbon-Smart Practices Master Agreement for further information.
